THIS CROSS OF MINE

When I reflect upon this cross of mine
As just a splinter in the one He bore,
So puny does it seem to groan and whine
When I reflect upon this cross of mine;
And more, if He had left no other son,
No more should I the hand of Him implore
When I reflect upon this cross of mine
As just a splinter in the one He bore.

Announcement is made by Henry L. Otis, 308 Jeff Davis Avenue, Waveland, of the marriage of his daughter, Miss Carolyn Edith Otis, to Mr. Alfred Benton Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert J. Scholl of LaPorte, Indiana.

The marriage was solemnized on Monday, August 18, 1968 in Atlanta, Georgia. Following visits to their families in LaPorte and Waveland last Friday to the Naval Air Station in Corpus Christi, Texas, where both have been stationed since the first of the year, Mr. Snyder leaves on September 8th for his new duty station on Okinawa; and Mrs. Snyder will remain on duty at Corpus Christi until she is able to join him.

The young couple met while stationed at the Naval Hospital in Corpus Christi where both were hospital corpsmen.

Mrs. Snyder, the grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Otis of Waveland, is a graduate of Bay High School and finished the business course at Pearl River Junior College, then was employed at People's Federal Savings & Loan before she joined the Navy in June, 1968. She was also a "candy stripper" at Hancock General Hospital while in high school. Mr. Snyder graduated from high school in the Indiana city before he joined the Navy.

Lions Clubs Set Up Disaster Relief Fund

The Mississippi Council of Governors of the International Association of Lions Clubs has announced the establishment of the Mississippi Lions Disaster Fund to aid victims stricken by hurricane Camille.

District Governor W.W. Perkins of Brookhaven, chairman of the Council, said letters had been written to every Lions Club president in the state and to every state Lions organization in the country to inform them of the Disaster Fund and seeking their support.

Response has been overwhelming according to Perkins, with clubs all over the United States pledging money and other aid to the stricken area. The Jacksonville, Fla., Lions Club promptly responded with a $1,000 donation, while others have sent truck loads of clothing and food. As of Sunday August 24, the cash contributions totaled $4,250, with additional funds expected daily.

Lions International, with headquarters in Chicago, Ill., notified the Mississippi office they were sending a substantial contribution from their International Emergency Fund.

Governor Perkins has appointed District Governor Archie Wilson of Gulfport as coordinator of the Disaster Fund distribution. The Gulf Coast has ten Lions Clubs comprising approximately 500 members.

Perkins has called for the 224 Lions Clubs in the state—boasting of over 8,000 members—to mail their contributions to Mississippi Lions Disaster Fund, P.O. Box 42, Philadelphia, Mississippi.

"In the true spirit of Lionism and living by our motto of

In addition to Perkins and Wilson, other District Governors composing the Council of Governors are Troy Mingo of Amory, George Oakman of Greenville, and James C. Williamson of Philadelphia. W.T. Gregory of Jackson is the State Secretary of Mississippi Lions.

Rev. Durrie Hardin Hurricane Victim Reported Better

By Joe Pilel

Mrs. Lloyd B. Griffith of 120 Citizen Street in Bay St. Louis was one time organist for the Trinity Episcopal Church in Pass Christian. Recently she sought out Rev. Durrie B. Hardin in New Orleans to see how he fared and to learn from him exactly what happened of the night Hurricane Camille destroyed the Episcopal Rectory and claimed the life of Mrs. Hardin. Mrs. Griffith reported Mr. Hardin was improving and staying in New Orleans in the home of a close friend. "He still is unable to put on a shoe," said Mrs. Griffith, "and he has a great many gashes and bruises that were inflicted during the horrible night when he stood on the edge of the upstairs bathtub with water at chin level and tried to fight off the debris that was being hurled directly toward both he and Helen." Mr. Hardin was trapped in the wreckage of the rectory and unable to move. At the time he was freed he was in a condition of shock and was not aware that his wife had died. "Durrie is getting better," declared Mrs. Griffith "and he is eager to return to his Parish."

The historic and beautiful old Trinity Episcopal Church of Pass Christian was completely demolished. Built on Gothic lines and in a setting of beautiful old live oak trees and English ivy, this church was constructed in 1849. Last Sunday surviving survivors of Hurricane Camille gathered on the grounds of the church and held services.

Salvation Army From Penn. Helps

Divisional Director of the Salvation Army's Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware area, Mr. Ronald W. Keller, Jr. said he had no idea how many thousands of persons his two air-lifted units had fed and supplied necessities.

The Salvation Army doesn't keep a record working on the belief that anyone who applies is in need. The units were air-lifted into the distress area, however, due to expenses involved they will have to return mobile to their headquarters located at 17 N. Seventh Avenue, Coatesville, Penna. 19320.

This reporter found that the mobile kitchen was dispensing hot coffee, sandwiches, milk, bread, army cots, cooking equipment, and many more things. When asked for an estimate on the number of persons served, Mr. Keller replied: "We have no idea. Thousands."

NEW LOCATION

The Coastal Insurance Agency whose office building on Beach Boulevard was destroyed is now located at 140 Main Street next door to the Selective Service office. The agency is operated by E. J. Marengo.

Engineer Troops Aided In Hurricane Relief

A 700-man Army Engineer construction battalion with 189 pieces of equipment reported early Thursday, August 21, to the Mississippi Gulf Coast to aid recovery efforts from Hurricane Camille. The Army Engineer unit is from Fort Benning, Georgia, assigned to the Third U.S. Army headquarters, and is commanded by Lt. Colonel Henry A. Pate, Jr. It worked under the general direction of Colonel Robert E. Snetzer, Army District Engineer at Mobile, who is serving as agent for the Office of Emergency Preparedness in recovery operations.

The units were deployed as follows: Headquarters Company and Company A, Seabee Base at Gulfport; Company B, Poplarville; Company C, Pearlinton, Nicholson, and Piquette; and Company D, Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

The mission of the Army troops was to open up roads and clear utility rights of way for the present. Colonel Robert E. Snetzer, Army District Engineer at Mobile, said that a Navy Seabee unit was deployed at Pass Christian, which was virtually destroyed by the violent winds of Camille.

As of noon August 20, the construction battalion had opened up 238 miles of non-Federal roads and streets, removed 2,867 tons of debris, buried 28 tons of dead animals and assisted hurricane victims in countless unscheduled ways. It is operating sanitary fills, and generators and pumps to support utility systems at a number of points.

An additional company of Army Engineers, has arrived from Fort Benning to the Mississippi Gulf Coast to speed cleanup operations in the wake of Hurricane Camille.

The new company will be attached to the Engineer construction Battalion, which has been at work in the disaster area since August 21. It is equipped with 40 dump trucks and 10 front loaders, and each will be manned with a double crew for double-shift operations.

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:

I would like to give this message to Christians and non-Christians. Let us go back to Gen. 7-8 & 9 Noah built the Ark of safety by the specifications of God. There was one door on the first story and one window on the top. All entered by the one door and man on the top floor looked up through the window. After the flood was over God gave Noah a covenant and placed the rainbow in the sky, a token of his covenant.

In the recent storm, hundreds of houses and buildings were unroofed, a reminder from God to look up. Then his rainbow appeared reminding us that He had not forgotten His covenant, and all who will may reach safety through the one door, Jesus Christ. It is now time to throw away the bottle and fall on one's

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:

I would like to commend Mr. Michael Ladner for calm leadership during hectic days here. He and a handful of other local volunteers, ran a Civil Defense food and clothing distribution center.

They gave their time and energy despite damage to their own property. In my estimation, they were courageous in doing what had to be done; dealing firmly with many other local people trying to take unfair advantage of the goods available.

Really, it is not my place to thank these generous people. They didn't do it for me; they did it for their fellow man.

Sincerely,
REV. MAURICE FLOOD, S.T.

Some Losses Eligible for 1969 Deductions

A news release from the District Office of the Internal Revenue Service dated Sept. 28, 1969, says: "As a result of the Presidential declaration, certain fiscal year taxpayers may deduct losses from Hurricane Camille which occurred on Aug. 17 and 18, 1969, on their 1969 fiscal year income tax returns. As of now, this ruling applies to taxpayers in 24 Mississippi counties which include Adams and Jackson. Hurricane Camille losses are deductible on current fiscal year returns when the disaster occurs after the end of the year, but before the due date of the return. Qualifying fiscal year taxpayers who have already filed returns may claim their losses by filing an amended return Form 1040X or Claim for Refund Form 1040, within three months of the due date of their return."

came after April 15, calendar year taxpayers cannot deduct their losses on 1968 returns. However, their losses can be deducted when returns for 1969 are filed.

"Non-business casualty loss deductions are limited to the amount over $100 for each casualty.

"Individuals and businesses suffering extensive casualty to suffering extensive casualty losses will want to take these losses into account in satisfying their September installment of estimated tax.

"Publication 547, 'Tax Information on Disasters, Casualty Losses and Thefts,' describes procedures for claiming casualty losses. Free copies may be obtained by sending a post card to the District Director, Internal Revenue Service, 301 North Lamar Street, Jackson, Mississippi 39202. It is also available at local Internal Revenue Service offices."

More than 1,500 persons now directly engaged in reparation of electric service. Mississippi Power Company men in storm-damaged areas in Mississippi, A. J. Watson, president of the utility company, announced today. He noted that nearly 500 electric vehicles are in operation in the clean-up work, and helicopters have been brought in as far away as Arizona to transport men and materials and to help speed up replacement of transmissions to towers which were completely destroyed or damaged by Hurricane Camille.

Line forces from outside the Mississippi Power Company area are working in Forrest, Harrison, Hancock, Jackson, Lamar, Marion, Pearl River, and Stone Counties.

"Many of the electric companies in the Southeast have virtually stripped their own companies of operating personnel to lend a hand in helping us to restore service to our customers as rapidly as humanly possible," Mr. Watson said.

"Steady progress is being made in this gigantic task, but a great deal remains to be done because of the widespread damage to our facilities. Much of the electric distribution system in the affected areas must be completely rebuilt.

New Stock Arriving Daily

We were dealt the worst, yet we shall survive, stronger and better than before!!

Hancock County, shall move ahead, and along with County, in progress will be two of our municipalities, St. Louis and Waveland!

No known prevention could have been designed to prevent the destruction of "CAMILLE" and many may ask why that is easy to answer - WE ARE A STRONGER GROUP OF PEOPLE THAN ELSEWHERE AND MORE CAPABLE TO BOUNCE BACK THAN MOST.

We HAVE SURVIVED the greatest force of devastation recorded in the history of America!

Our thanks to you, Mr. C. D. Director Kidd, but for persistence to evacuate, our death toll would have been tremendous, and in death we could not rebuild and reactivate our wonderful country!

And even in confusion and destruction we were able to maintain security for our citizens, ample food, clothing, health. Maybe not in the most orderly manner, but we overcame the first harrowing days till the days and frustration could be overcome!

And I, Russell Elliott, President of Your Board of Supervisors am most blessed. All family well, and I have the honor and privilege of serving with a board whose only interest was for others, even though all self personal loss and damage.

Your Board (and mine) proved under the most extreme adverse conditions that you had made a wise choice, the led you through and shall lead to complete recovery. I feel honored and very humble to serve with such a group, and doubly so as President.

ALL ELECTED OFFICIALS mustered to the call, and served untiringly regardless of personal dangers, criticism and controversy.

It is impossible to individually thank all, (locally and throughout the nation) who helped, but believe me, your concern and assistance shall always be herald and appreciated. To you all, and our neighbors from other areas, let me say that FAITH IN MANKIND has been restored!!

I was placed in the enviable position as president of the Board with the greatest responsibility known to a Supervisor, but you people of Hancock County are the greatest, and reacted with sober determination to conquer the untamed, uncontrolled killer fury of Camille. You realized that your elected officials and appointed agents are human, capable of error and confusion, and that they were desperately trying in your behalf to accomplish the supernatural. We didn't quite do this, but we all did survive.

NOW WE HAVE A GREATER JOB, that of rebuilding and regrowing, and with such people as you, I find no fear for complete recovery and a tremendous future for the future!!

Our NASA facility has long been a topic of question locally, but now we know why, God Almighty, blessed us with this portion of the space exploration program, it was our main security during our hours of need. All agencies of NASA, GE and the other sub-contractors, people of Louisiana and Mississippi were terrific. They were there FIRST WITH THE MOST!

Thank you all!!
A progress report will follow in time to come!
One of our immediate actions are preparing for the children by getting our schools reopened.

WE SHALL REBUILD HANCOCK COUNTY along with our cities, and move ahead with hands joined as brothers of a most harrowing, costly and deadly experience, and with this knowledge, we shall be better citizens tomorrow.

I am extremely proud to have been chosen by you. I hope I have fulfilled your wish and God bless you. I help in a big way in the days to come.

RUSSELL J. ELLIOTT

Insurance Companies Say Make Temporary Repairs

Arrangements for temporary repairs to property damaged by Hurricane Camille is urged by the President of the Mississippi Association of Insurance Agents, Wirt A. Yerger, Jr., of Jackson.

Residents of the Gulf Coast and other areas affected by Camille should protect their property as best they can to prevent further damage," said Yerger. "The bill for any such necessary repairs should be held pending arrival of adjusters," he stated, "as they will be included in your claim."

Each insured should notify his insurance agent immediately of the extent of the damage and also indicate when the claim reached if he is residing in his damaged home. Yerger stated, "In a catastrophe such as this, the facilities of agencies are taxed to an unusual degree; however, the agents, adjusters and company personnel are working to expedite loss adjustments."

Hundreds of additional people will be working to get losses attended to as rapidly as possible, according to Yerger.

Services

At Episcopal School

Christ Episcopal Church, Bay St. Louis, began holding services Sunday, August 31, at Christ Episcopal Day School, 919 South Beach Boulevard. Services will continue to be held at the school each Sunday beginning at 7:30 A. M. and 10:00 A. M. until further notice.

An immediate need of the Church is a small piano. Anyone having one is asked to contact the Church office.

Areas Needed

For Hurricane Debris

Real estate experts from the Army Corps of Engineers at Mobile are working with local government authorities in the hard-hit Mississippi coast counties of Jackson, Harrison, and Hancock to develop suitable areas for disposing of tons of debris from former show places, homes, more modest dwellings, and other buildings along Mississippi's "Gold Coast."

Report Vessels Sunk By Hurricane Camille

A report should be submitted immediately to the District Engineer, U.S. Army Engineer District, Mobile, Alabama, by the owner or operator of any ship, tug, barge, or any other type of vessel, equipment or structure that was lost or sunk as a result of Hurricane CAMILLE.

The notification should be addressed to the attention of Chief, Operations Division, P. O. Box 2288, Mobile, Alabama 36601, and should include the following:

- Name, type, and dimensions.
- Location, or if unknown, last known location.
- Is vessel a hazard to navigation?
- Is vessel marked?
- Condition (if known).
- Salvage arrangements and expected date of salvage.
- Other information that will alleviate blockage of the waterways.

Corps Of Engineers Cleanup Operation

The Corps of Engineers will clear streets plus ten feet of right-of-way but will not pick up debris on the home owners' lot. Debris and trash on dwelling lots may be taken to the ten-foot area where it will be picked up.

Trees on dwellings will be removed by the Corps, provided the owner signs a release relieving the Corps of any responsibility for damage which might occur in the removal.

Rare Books Destroyed

While many books in the City-County Library are salvageable following Hurricane Camille's onslaught of wind and water, library officials believe that most of the biographies, non-fiction, reference, and rare books received the greatest extent of the water damage. Until conditions permit working toward restoration of existing books many of the library staff are occupied as volunteers in the Red Cross Service.

Two Priests Observe Jubilee

Two priests of the Divine Word celebrated the silver jubilee of their ordinations, August 15.

Rev. Robert E. Pung, S.V.D., former rector of Divine Word Seminary, Bay St. Louis, and editor of St. Augustine's Messenger, offered Mass of Thanksgiving August 15 at St. John the Baptist Church in Rome.

Father Pung is presently Rector and Treasurer at Missionary Verbiti, Nomi (Rome), Italy.

Rev. Stanley J. Gootee, S.V.D., observed the anniversary of his ordination at a celebrated Mass at Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Belle Chasse, La.

Prior to his appointment as pastor of Belle Chasse, Father Gootee was assigned to St. Mary Church, Vicksburg, and was procurator at the local Seminary.

BASIC TRAINING at Lackland A. F. Base, Texas completed, Airman James A. D'Elouso, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew B. A graduate of the Satellite Florida High School Airman D'Elouso attended the University of Southern Mississippi and Cape Kennedy College, Cocoa Beach, Florida.

House Inspections By Power Company

Mississippi Power Company personnel are now making house-to-house inspections in all Gulf Coast communities to insure that all of the company's electrical facilities are operating properly.

Electric service in this area has been reconnected to most homes and business establishments which can safely receive electric power.

However, if you are without electricity and any wiring damage on your premises has been repaired by a qualified electrician, please contact your nearest Mississippi Power Company office, who will restore your electric service as soon as possible.

FORBID TRASH FIRES

According to authorities in Waveland the burning of trash and debris within the city limits of Waveland has been prohibited. This step was taken in an effort to keep such fires from spreading in the already fire gutted town. A trash fire could spread very easily there and due to water shortage such a fire might get out of control.

Federal Employees in Job At MTF

The majority of government contractor employees associated with the NASA Mississippi Test Facility were back to work last week following a week of frantic activity devoted to aiding fellow employees and neighbors in south Mississippi and southeastern Louisiana communities stricken by Hurricane Camille.

Monday August 25th was a regular work day, with all able employees requested to report to the test facility in Hancock County for work assignments. Government bus service from the Coast communities to MTF was put into operation.

Boeing, General Electric, North American Rockwell, and other contractors worked closely with the NASA MTF staff. The MTF Manager, and his deputy, Mr. F. A. Schuyten, in coordinating efforts at the test facility in the area. Joint task forces were established to supervise housing, community support, employee aid and site restoration. Other employees inspected damage at the test facility itself, which was moderate.

One member of the GE Management and Technical Services Department was known to have lost his life as a result of the hurricane which slammed into the Mississippi Gulf Coast Sunday, August 17. He was Mr. W. H. Covington of the Apollo Systems organization and assigned to GE-MTSD, also killed.

Two members of the GE department were still officially missing as of yesterday.

They were Mr. W. J. Rees, security specialist, who was at the Richelleu Apartments in Pass Christian, and Mr. Young of 4304 34th Ave., Gulfport, a summer employee.

John R. Picard, general manager of the GE department, who lost his own home in Pass Christian, had high praise for all members of his organization and of other MTF groups. The key word, Picard said, is "endure". He cited those employees who worked around the clock at MTF and in the communities, many to the limit of endurance, helping bring order out of confusion and pitching in to render every conceivable humanitarian aid. Picard spoke of the numerous instances in which employees literally saved the lives of their neighbors or of other employees, risking their own in the swirling flood waters and 200 mile-per-hour winds.

Hundreds of Boeing, GE and North American Rockwell employees and members of their families were among the 1,194 refugees who were given shelter, food, medical attention, clothing and showers at the Mississippi Test Facility. Hundreds were still at the site last Friday, quartered in the Engineering and Administration building and in the huge site warehouse.

Employees not seriously affected were formed into work teams who went daily into Clearmont Harbor, Waveland, Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian to aid recovery operations. Civil Defense supplies, government equipment and subsistence items from MTF were taken to the most affected areas. Later, two-man teams in radio-equipped vehicles fanned out into small settlements and to individual homes in areas north of Piquayune, Bay St. Louis and Pass Christian to determine and fill needs.

An operation to retrieve furniture, appliances and other personal effects from damaged or destroyed homes of employees was in effect as of Thursday after clean-up crews had cleared streets and driveways.

Good news to all associated with the NASA Mississippi Test Facility, and to surrounding counties, was an announcement Friday by Dr. Eberhard F.M. Rees, deputy director of the NASA Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala. Dr. Rees stated that preflight testing of Apollo/Saturn V stages would continue at MTF at least through the 15th of this month.

This was interpreted to mean at least through 1970. Efforts to secure new business for the test facility are continuing.

Contractor firms at MTF are providing emergency financial aid, and grants in some cases, to employees most seriously affected by Hurricane Camille. Emergency legal counseling and assistance is also being provided until employees can retain an attorney of their choice.

Pending completion of a detailed survey, the exact number of MTF employees who lost their homes or who suffered other major losses is not known, but it is expected to be more than 200. Many homes were flooded to a height of six feet or more.

Traffic Control Set For Debris Hauling

Hancock County Sheriff Fred Curet said yesterday that a joint traffic control made up of Bay St. Louis and Waveland police, sheriff's department deputies plus six sheriff's units from another county has been organized. Corps of Engineers Captain Fate, office at the Courthouse will be in charge.

The joint control group will handle traffic from the end of the sea wall to Pearlington in order to expedite the movement of trucks hauling brush and debris to the designated dumping areas. These areas are located at Jackson Ridge, Pearlington, near the Frost Top on Highway 90, Railroad Avenue, Cedar Point and back off Bay Highway.

Curet, who is a member of the executive committee, Office of Emergency Planning 11th District also said he had requested the O.E.P. to furnish two police cars for Bay St. Louis and two such cars for Waveland. The cars to be equipped with 100-watt two-way radios.

L&N Bay Bridge Fixed Trains Roll

L. & N. executives from Louisville, Kentucky, headquarters were on the scene a few hours after Hurricane Camille subsided bringing with them recruits from all directions. In speaking with one executive last evening, who explained that he could not give me his name or a direct quote because it was against company policy, I was informed that the over-two miles span of the Bay employees can retain an attorney of their choice.

Pending completion of a detailed survey, the exact number of MTF employees who lost their homes or who suffered other major losses is not known, but it is expected to be more than 200. Many homes were flooded to a height of six feet or more.

Pass Christian

(Cont. from Page 1.) Most of the citizenry of the area were force-evacuated and urged not to return until facilities are restored to normalcy.

Building progress will, of course, be slow and Mayor Wittmann does not expect to realize funds from taxes for city operation purposes sooner than December 1971. Three years of long, hard reconstruction to rebuild a city once famous for its lovely homes and gracious way of life. The town of Oysters and Aristocrats.

When asked about the industries in Pass Christian, Mayor Wittmann said Pass Industries employed approximately 450 people and that the Gulf-Coast Pro-Stress employed some 200 persons in the manufacture of the heavy beams being used on Interstate Highway 10. About 100 vessels in the fishing and oystering business brought into Pass Christian a cool million dollars annually, not to mention the payroll made possible through this fleet for allied industries. Mayor Wittmann said he had received no report from the Marine Commission on the condition of the valuable oyster reef. However, if Hurricane Camille left the reef covered with mud the oysters will die and re-seeding is a slow operation.

PLANS FOR MODEL CITY IN THE MAKING

Will hard-hit Pass Christian become a ghost town? Are the people discouraged and discouraged? Do they fear a come-back is impossible? No. Already the planners are talking about making Pass Christian into a model city. A city built with a code to restrict, to bring about better home and business facilities, to improve structures and schools, to attract richer industry and to up-grade the entire area. A city beautiful. A Utopia.

Where will all this help come from? Why, some of it is already here! For example from NASA two volunteer General Electric Engineers, Messrs. Ed Craig and Hank Coolidge, plan to stay on the job until water is made available. The Federal Government has able men assigned to lend aid. Seabees are lending home-owner assistance, small business loans are being made available with Messrs. George Field, D. McDaniel and Francis Walker working long hours to handle applications. Mobile homes are moving in fast and there are tentative plans to start operating the public schools by early October.

Alderman-at-large, Arthur Hyatt, Major James A. Serra, of first ward; Claiborne Rick of second ward; Col. Justin A. Courtney of third ward, and Charles Logan of fourth ward, are setting up meetings to consider ways and means of bringing about reclamation and restoration of business and residential property.

Mayor Wittmann is bone-weary, but not too tired to envision a brighter and better tomorrow for Pass Christian. A good leader with proven ability to cope with and conquer some mighty tight situations. He expressed confidence in the city's triumphant come-back from Camille.

Restoration Of Power Service Report

Norman Johnson, Jr., chairman of the Mississippi Public Service Commission, Johnson and A. J. Watson, Jr., president of Mississippi Power Company, Gulfport, today issued the following joint statement regarding restoration of electric service in the areas severely damaged by Hurricane Camille.

"Electric service has now been virtually restored to all customers of Mississippi Power Company in the Pearl River, Stone, Forrest, Marion, and Jackson county areas. In Biloxi, restoration is complete except for unreported outages or service to customers whose own facilities have not been sufficiently repaired to receive electric service. In the Gulfport - Long Beach area, some 90 percent of the customers are back in service. In the Pass Christian and the Bay St. Louis-Waveland - Clermont Harbor areas, the damage to Company facilities from the hurricane was so extensive that much of the systems serving those customers are having to be almost totally rebuilt. This has delayed progress there, but the concentration in these areas of personnel from locations where work has been completed should enable the rebuilding to proceed at a very rapid pace. It is hoped that every customer capable of receiving service will have his power restored by early next week.

"The restoration of service to all customers of Mississippi Power Company does not mean that the Company's rebuilding job has been completed. Much remains to be done, such as the construction of two-way sources of electric power to various areas, reconstruction of lines that were temporarily repaired to give customers service at the earliest possible moment, installation of street lights, and the other items of cleanup which necessarily have to follow a crash program such as this."

Both Johnson and Watson were high in their praise of the FISHING DEPT. No news - nobody has time to fish, crab or hunt at the moment.

ANIMAL NOTES - Many homeless pets were of necessity destroyed, but some which miraculously escaped extermination are turning up. Please give these lost animals food and water and we'll try to find owners or homes for the waifs.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS ALONG THE WAY - A cheery pair of mocking birds flitting about in splintered pine branches; the endless parade of trucks of every size and description coming in empty and departing laden with towering mounds of debris; a brilliant yellow canna blossom blooming brightly despite the fact that it spent several hours totally submerged in salt water, and the sounds of the times -- sirens, saws and screeching helicopter engines -- then the sudden stillness as curfew sends everyone scurrying to shelter as the sun slowly sets on a ravaged horizon.

BUD MOREAU says he's hoping that those double rotor copters will go away -- the single blade models haven't given him any trouble, but the dual blade jobs have ripped off his temporary far paper roof a total of five times. He's getting a bit weary of repeating the repair job.

ONE OF THE larger truck rental agencies has reportedly upped the usual $40 deposit to $100 cold cash. We feel that this is hardly the time for anyone to get greedy--however, the company that boasts that they're not the biggest, still charges only the regular fees.

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott

Everything for the past couple of weeks on the Gulf Coast has been "Camille" the worst hurricane to hit the mainland. Just before and after it hit sportsmen were too busy moving their boats, boarding up the house, etc. to think about fishing or other sports.

Most folks in the Bay had some or plenty damage to their homes. Conditions have improved greatly and it won't be long before we return to normal lives.

There will be plenty time to catch up on our fishing and hunting.

Before Camille, fishing was good for both salt and fresh water fish. Some speckles and other fish were caught outside while bass and perch were found in bays and rivers in inside waters. Usually after a hurricane fishing is good. Hard crabs give better and soft crabs and flounders are caught.

Have met some new folks who were vacationing in the Bay. Among them were Rist De Bois blanc who does a lot of fishing and hunting in the Hammond area. His nephew is Alton Sick who also fishes and hunts.

Louie Demoran has been a commercial fisherman for years. He is familiar with all the waters hereabouts. Ask him to find out where to go and get them.

Ray Bonano, Mark Knoepflor and his brother, Glenn do a lot of fishing. They recently made a successful trip to Ship Island where they caught a bunch of fish.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Baker and family of Mobile, Ala., enjoyed fishing off the college wharf. Mr. Baker teaches at McGill University at Mobile. They were guests of Brother Florio at St. Stanislaus.

James Tolar and Tommy Tolar from New Augusta, Miss., enjoy a short stay at the Bay. Fishing is their favorite pastime.

Jimmy Mitchell and Jos. Marco of Picayune hunt and fish. They visit the Bay frequently and fish with friends here.

Richard Call lives in Waveland. Dick fishes, crabs and flounders regularly.

Elaine Beonel and Renee Simar with Sister Elaine all of Baton Rouge, spent their vacation at Bay St. Louis. They did swimming, some crabbing and fishing. They expect to come back soon. It was their first experience at these sports.

Kenny Miller of 120 Boardman Ave. and Jack Hoda of Belle Point near the mouth of Jordan River landed a 35 lb. drum fish. Miller was using a spinning rod and 12 pound monofilament line. After hooking around the anchor line they landed the fish in about 30 minutes. Both are ardent fishermen.

One fisherman said, take a little drink each day and you'll live to die another way.

Paul H. Gwin of New Orleans, enjoys his fishing. He and his friends catch a lot of fish in Louisiana waters. Salt water fishing is his favorite sport.

were K. F. Ray, G. T. Johnston; D. R. Lafrance. Sam Grimes they are stationed at Alvin Calender Base. They are from Belle Chasse, La., and do a great deal of fishing when home. A fine bunch of sports.

Bill Sherman enjoys his fishing. He is with General Electric in New Orleans and goes on every occasion. Was a pleasure seeing you, Bill.

Ran across Harvey Mitchell in New Orleans. Harvey is a local boy and does fishing, crabbing and floundering. Hope to see you later in the Bay, Harvey.

It is hard to state how many of our golfing and fishing buddies died on the coast as a result of the late hurricane. One of them was J.C. Rich, Sr., with whom I played golf 30 years ago. Sympathy is extended to the family.

Understand that John Seafide, Jr., has returned to the Bay. We can catch up on our golfing and fishing when things get back to normal, oh, John.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Elliott returned home from their vacation in North Carolina recently. Luke did a lot of fishing and golfing while there.

Tony Emmeranto, Jr., is on vacation. Been waiting a long time he said to enjoy some fishing. He also plays golf.

Dan Haggerty is a pretty busy man right now. He is running for Clerk of Courts. No time for fishing at this time, he said. He's in New Orleans, of course.

Most fishermen argue about the color of lures, and casting baits which are the best, in my way of thinking, it is not the color of a bait but the action that catches fish.

Generally speaking, the colors best to use at night are dark colors--the darker the day, the darker the lure - the lighter the day, the lighter the lure, says Dick Koles, president of the Fred Arbogast Company, makers of all types of baits. They are called the "Bait of Champions." Personally, they are hard to beat as fish getters.
